ABOUT DEPUTY CHIEF SHAW

Stephen Shaw, MBA, EFO, CFO, RN, serves as Deputy Chief of Jupiter Fire Rescue and is a recognized leader in emergency services, Mobile Integrated Healthcare (MIH), and community-based care.

With nearly three decades in Fire Rescue and more than two decades of leadership experience, Deputy Chief Shaw has dedicated his career to strengthening the connection between public safety, healthcare, and community well-being. Prior to joining Jupiter Fire Rescue in 2024, Chief Shaw served for 24+ years with Fort Lauderdale Fire Rescue, where he led initiatives in EMS, Mobile Integrated Healthcare, professional development, and emergency operations. He is a Registered Nurse, a member of the International Association of Fire Chiefs Hazardous Materials Committee, and a Hazmat Specialist with FEMA Urban Search & Rescue Task Force 2. Chief Shaw is a respected voice within Florida's MIH ecosystem and has worked alongside CommHIT across the state to advance workforce development, out-of-hospital care, and collaboration among EMS agencies, healthcare organizations, and community partners. He serves as the Community Paramedicine (CP) Zone Lead for CommHIT's statewide MIH convening, helping bring together EMS leaders and healthcare partners to strengthen Mobile Integrated Healthcare programs across Florida. He is an author for Fire Engineering magazine, a national conference speaker, and host of the "Perspectives on Leadership" podcast. He holds a BS in Chemistry and an MBA from Florida Atlantic University.
